

Baby's Body Found In Seminary Area

COLLINS — The body of a newborn white baby was found in a creek near Seminary, officers said Wednesday.

Covington County Sheriff's Deputy Joe Leggett said the body was found about 11:30 a.m. Tuesday by a 13-year-old Negro boy, Eugene Coleman, near a gravel road about three-quarters of a mile north of Seminary.

Leggett said an autopsy was to be performed Wednesday at a Laurel hospital, and an investigation is under way.
