

Jane Doe

The skeletal remains of white female Jane Doe were found approximately one mile off Red Hill Road on DeSoto National Forest land on June 18, 2001. Animal activity had spread the skeletal remains over a large area. Based upon Dr. Ed Waldrip's examination of the remains he estimated the Jane Doe to be between 20 to 35 years off age, height-4' 07" to 5' 02" and unknown weight. Hair color is brown and at the time of her death she was wearing knee length blue jeans (Zana Di Brand), button up, size 16, silver or pink bra and panties unknown size, brown leather sandals size 6 wide. Dr. Waldrip stated the cause of death was homicide cause by blunt force trauma.
