To whom it may concern:

On December 18, 2009, our brother, Johnny Crosby, went missing from his home in Tishomingo, Mississippi. It was like he just vanished into thin air. He was 67 years of age, 5'7", 125-130 lbs, had blue eyes and brownish/gray hair. He had numerous medical conditions (aneurysm in his leg, several back surgeries, a tumor on his brain and heart problems).

The night before he went missing, he spent the night with one of his sisters. She said he was scared to death of one of his daughter's ex-boyfriends (who had threatened to kill him earlier). The next morning when he returned home, he was in good spirits and back to his old self.

The last person to see him alive was his daughter and her 3 children, who lived with him. He thought the world of his grandchildren and would not have left them at Christmas.

His daughter said when she last saw him, he was outside in a t-shirt, shorts, and flip flops. It was below freezing that day and rainy. She also said he had his debit card and a couple of pain pills with him. He was in the backyard when she left to go to a Christmas program at her daughter's school. His eyeglasses were found in the front yard. A week after his disappearance, she started getting rid of his personal items. Johnny had a car that she was driving. It was to be laminated later, but it mysteriously caught fire as she was going down the road.

She and her 2 ex-boyfriends are suspects in his disappearance, but they haven't been held for 72 hours. The first polygraph they gave his daughter, started sweating so bad, they had to stop. Doesn't that tell you that she knows what happened?

There has not been any activity on his bank account or his Medicare/Medicaid card since he's been gone. The Tishomingo Sheriff's Department did not even search inside of his home when he first went missing. The Tishomingo Rescue Squad searched around the property. About 9 months later, the Sheriff's Department performed their search. The Sheriff's Department and the Mississippi Bureau of Investigation are supposed to be investigating, but we do not know anything. They do not contact us and let us know what has and hasn't been done. We want answers and we want them NOW! Please help us!

We, his brothers and sisters, would like to know what went on that day, so that we may have closure in our hearts. We know in our hearts that he will not be coming back. Johnny, we love you!
