Last seen leaving his Apt in a robe and slippers ,gold sleeping cap and gray slippers

Lee — who wears makeup and women's clothing in some photos posted on social media but uses he/him pronouns, was last seen at 5:58 a.m. Friday 7/8/22 leaving the student housing Campus Walk apartments in Oxford. He was wearing a silver robe, gold sleeping cap, and slippers, according to a statement from the Oxford Police Department.

Lee is a social work major and campaigned to be the University of Mississippi homecoming king in 2021, receiving more than 45% of the initial vote and forcing a runoff with his opponent before losing the final election, Police found Lee's car at a local towing company on Monday, according to OPD. The car was towed from the Molly Barr Trails apartment complex, about two miles from Campus Walk, the day he went missing.

Lee may have been visiting someone there, law enforcement officials said they sent Lee's vehicle to the Mississippi State Crime Laboratory for processing and have conducted "around a dozen" search warrants on both "physical and digital entities."

They have also begun searching certain areas of Oxford with a K9 unit and rescue team, according to a statement.

If anyone has any information regarding Lee's whereabouts or his activities on Friday, they are asked to call Oxford Police Department at 662-232-2400; University Police Department at 662-915-7234; or Crime Stoppers at 662-234-8477.
